Harper viewed as more trustworthy leader: poll

Monday, February 12, 2007 - 06:45 PM

By: 680News staff

Toronto - A new CPAC-SES poll finds Stephen Harper is a more trusted leader, one year after being elected this country's prime minister.

Thirty-five per cent of those asked said Harper is the most trustworthy of the major party leaders, which is up 14 per cent.

Liberal leader Stephane Dion is second with 20 per cent, while 8 per cent believe Gilles Duceppe is the most trustworthy, along with 18 per cent for Jack Layton.

Harper is also viewed as the most competent of the leaders at 41 per cent, and 39 per cent also said he has the best vision for Canada.